Now for a good democrat state ticket with Geo. W. Glick for the standard bearer and we think victory is assured.

The Wichita News Beacon will send the most popular teacher in Wichita to the Educational Convention to be held at St. Paul in June, free of all expense.

The Wichita News Beacon company have changed the style of their paper from an eight column folio to a five column quarto. The change decidedly improves the appearance of the paper.

Many of our girls do not know why old lace is so much more valuable and generally so much more beautiful than new lace. The fact is that old lace is all woven in lost patterns. It is frequently as fine as a spider's film, and cannot be reproduced. The loss of patterns was a serious check to lace making in France and Belgium, and was occasioned by the French revolution. Before that time, whole villages supported themselves by lace making, and patterns were handed down from one generation to another. They were valuable heirlooms, for the most celebrated weavers always had as many orders as they could execute in a lifetime, and they were bound by an oath taken on the Four Gospels, to work only for certain dealers. When the Reign of Terror began, all work of this kind was interrupted for a time. After the storm subsided, the dealers and workers were far apart; some dead, some lost, some escaped to foreign lands, and such of the women as remained, were bound by their oath, and in spite of Robespierre's doctrine, was held by the poorest of them to be binding, and there are instances where they suffered actual war rather than break their word. Some, however, taught their children and grandchildren, and many patterns were preserved in this way. Some of the daintiest patterns were never recovered, and to-day specimens of these laces are known to be worth fabulous sums.—Southern Fact.

Cesler's Cap.
Does Geo. Humphrey think that he is greater than George the Third or the English Parliament or any of the tyrants of olden times that he can refuse to the people of Kansas a respectful hearing when they wish to present a petition for redress in any matter affecting their interests; or does he think that the 82,000 plurality makes the republican party invincible in the State? If so we think he is mistaken. If the Governor's action in refusing to meet the resubmission republicans in Topeka does not lose the party 50,000 votes in the coming election, then they have none of the spirit of Wm. Tell in them, and deserve nothing better than to be slaves of the party and to be whipped into line at any time and for any purpose that the leaders dictate.

An Encouraging Word to Farmers.
Over production of farm products, too much wheat, oats, corn, too many cattle, hogs and sheep, is now the cry. We produce more than our own people consume, and foreigners will only take our surplus at their own prices. Is there any light ahead? Yes, a little. Nearly all the cheap government lands have been sold, and western migration for homestead and cheap land is stayed. Our population is increasing at the rate of 2,200,000 a year, and in less than 10 years a healthy home demand will more than overtake production.

Then the great Deering factory, which put out the first successful grain binder upon the market, and has always, as now, led the way to economical methods of harvesting grain and grass, is still at it more largely and successfully than ever, endeavoring to help the farmers to make and save money, while helping themselves by furnishing the constantly improved Deering Binders and Mowers.

Colorado Cities and Places
This is the title of a pamphlet just issued by the passenger department of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway. It comprises 60 pages of valuable information, relating to some of the principal cities and resorts of Colorado, with 52 beautiful illustrations of different scenic views and localities, engraved from original photographs, and which have never before appeared in any work of this kind. In the two last supplementary pages, a carefully revised list is given of the leading hotels, restaurants, etc., in the cities and places described, with the names of their proprietors, the rates per day or week, and the character of accommodations provided. Copies will be mailed free to applicants in any part of the world, on receipt of 4 cents each for postage. Address JOHN SEBASTIAN, Gen'l Tkt. & Pass. Agt., C. R. I. & P. R. Chicago, Ill.

Carlisle's Shoes.
The Democrats in Congress are sensibly letting all questions of the Speakership of the Fifty-second Congress severely alone, but some of the republican newspapers are giving themselves unnecessary anxiety as to "who will fill Mr. Carlisle's shoes?" The answer is as simple as the question. Mr. Carlisle will fill them himself as ably in the Senate as in the House. Voters in Kentucky will decide who is to represent the district he has hitherto represented, and the Fifty-second Congress will decide who is to be its Speaker.

It is hardly worth while to doubt that the speaker will be a democrat. The only doubt is whether the republican party will be more damaged by the passage of the McKinley bill or evincing it in the senate and burying it afterwards. In either way it will lose congress, as most republicans are willing to concede in a confidential way. But in the meantime everything must be done in a regular way. The election must be held, the returns made and the members-elect assembled in Washington before the speaker can be chosen. Then, and not till then, will the democrats determine as to their choice for the speakership. They will assume nothing in advance but that the man they choose will be as unlike the present down-east bully as possible. He will be a man of brains, with education enough to make him a capable presiding officer—not an ignorant politician who derives his ideas from the education he has received in bulldozing caucuses and in co-operating with Blocks of Five Corporals.

The Democratic party has in it the ablest men of the country. It has men of the highest ability in this Congress and out of it. When the Fifty-second Congress is elected it will have among its members a majority of democrats any one of whom could take the Speaker's chair and fill it with eminent credit. Among these the leader will be selected where the voice of the party outside of Congress demands. Whether he is from West or East, South or North, he will command the confidence of the country by faithfully adhering to democratic principles as Mr. Carlisle has done.—Courier-Journal.

Veterans of the Civil War.
As a part of the census of the people to be taken during the month of June special provision has been made by Congress for ascertaining the names of surviving soldiers, sailors, and marines who were mustered into the service of the United States during the war of the rebellion, and of the widows of soldiers, sailors, and marines who have died. In connection with this special census of veterans the organization or vessel in which they served, the term of service in each case, and present residence will be taken by the census enumerators. In the case of widows, information regarding the service of their deceased husbands is also required.

The importance of accurate statements concerning the military record of each participant in the late war should not be underestimated. It should be the duty, moreover, of every veteran soldier or sailor to see that the enumerator is placed in possession of the necessary information concerning his own service. If he can not be at home when the enumerator calls he should leave a proper memorandum in the hands of his wife or other member of his household, so that the work of the census may not be delayed, and also that there may be no doubt as to the accuracy of the statements concerning his service which may be given to the census enumerator. That there may be no question as to the points to be covered by this memorandum, it may be well to state that the special inquiries to be made concerning veterans of the civil war include the name, the company, and the regiment or vessel in which they served, their late rank, the dates of enlistment and discharge, the length of service in years, months, and days, and their present post-office address. Where a soldier or sailor is organized or served in more than one organization or vessel, he should be very careful to give the term of service in each instance, as to cover each enlistment. In giving the organization care should be taken to distinguish the arm of the service, as infantry, cavalry, artillery, etc., and if a person served under an assumed name, his statement should be made to cover both the name under which he served and the true name by which he is now known.

Veterans of the war generally will recognize and appreciate the value of this special census to them, and they should aid the census enumerators in getting true statements in every way possible. Without their co-operation correct results can not be reached. This personal appeal is made to them, therefore, in the hope that their attention may be specially directed to the importance of this work and the necessary information may be promptly supplied to the census enumerator when he calls some time during the month of June.

Colleges and Tariff Reform.
Last Sunday morning the New York Tribune, for a reason as yet occult, published a table giving the preferences of the senior classes of forty-two colleges with relation to the doctrine of protection. To use the language of the Tribune: "What young men in American colleges are being taught in the important department of political economy, and with what views on the subject of the tariff they are sent out to become citizens and voters, are questions long regarded with interest, but not hitherto answered in a comprehensive and authoritative manner." The Tribune then explains that the replies represent on an average over three-fourths of each class, and are in every instance the written and signed expression of the views given. Presumably somewhat to the disgust of this able exponent of protection these replies showed an aggregate of 488 seniors in favor of protection and 948 committed to tariff reform.

Without going into the exhaustive exposition of the Tribune's compiler it will be interesting to note the preferences of these students as grouped by sections. The appended table is the result:

	Protection, 296	Tariff Reform, 948
--	-----------------	--------------------

New England,	70	111
New York,	101	51
Pennsylvania,	41	45
New Jersey,	60	111
Western,	1	28
Southern,	10	96
Female Colleges,
Total,	488	948

There are other interesting facts connected with this table. It appears that Pennsylvania and Maine are the only states in which the protection sentiment is in the lead. The larger colleges of New England are overwhelmingly for tariff reform. Harvard represents a ratio of 54 to 1, Yale 24 to 1, Amherst 2 to 1, Williams 4 to 1, Brown 2 to 1.

The returns from the Western colleges are interesting in details. The University of Minnesota shows the effect of the tariff agitation in that state and reports 6 seniors in favor of protection and 32 for tariff reform. The University of Kansas stands: protection 5, tariff reform 6. Oberlin, the old hot-bed of abolition, where the colored brother is welcomed to social equality, gives 33 of its 60 senior votes to tariff reform. The voice of the Western Reserve University at Cleveland is 7 to 2 against protection. Indiana is about equally divided in the Tribune's estimate.

The most astonishing showing is made by the female colleges, Vassar, Wellesley and Smith. Of 106 seniors only 10 report in favor of the doctrine of protection. This admirable instance of feminine ability to grasp the principles of national welfare and happiness may well inspire the admiring man to call out with Macbeth: "Bring forth men children only!"

A little space is devoted by the Tribune to the "remarks" of its student correspondents, some of which are amusing, most of which are enthusiastic. In commenting on the tariff reform sentiment at Cambridge the Tribune says: "A careful study of over a hundred more or less extended remarks gives the impression that, while all the instructors at Harvard are personally in favor of a tariff reform in the direction of ultimate free trade nevertheless they endeavor not to force their views upon the students." A Kansas student writes: "Prof. CAMPBELL taught free trade, while the teaching of Prof. BLACKBURN has been in the direction of protection." From Lafayette college, Easton, Pennsylvania: "A protection free trade text book and a protection professor, it is hard to decide." From the University of Minnesota: "A tariff for revenue only. Give us free sugar and tax whisky and tobacco to death."

"Tariff reform, with incidental protection." From the University of North Carolina: "Long live GROVER CLEVELAND and his doctrines." "CLEVELAND is all right." "Hurrah for CLEVELAND." From Swarthmore college: "We have no use for free trade in Pennsylvania." The "remarks" are concluded with this noble burst from the spot where the elm tree grows: Prof. SUMNER tries not to force free trade upon us, but he does all the same. "We need some instruction in protection." "As a principle of political economy, protection is illogical."

"Prof. HADLEY considers absolute free trade in the United States impossible." "SUMNER is for free trade or bust!" If the Tribune by its efforts has proved anything it has shown that Mr. CLARKSON was right when he declared at the American club banquet that educational tendencies in the United States are in the direction of tariff reform.

Farmers and the Census.
The census year began June 1, 1889, and ends May 31, 1890. Each state has from one to eleven supervisors districts. There are 175 supervisors in all. There are 42,000 enumerators, who in all parts of the country will be given their work Monday morning, June 2, 1890. Every farm will be visited before June 30, and the following questions will be asked, keeping in mind that the figures you are to give nearly all pertain to the crops of 1889, and not to the growing crops of 1890:

1. Number of acres of land, improved or unimproved. 2. Acres irrigated. 3. Number of acres of land in cultivation. 4. Number of acres of land in pasture. 5. Number of acres of land in woods. 6. Number of acres of land in orchards. 7. Value of farm, buildings, implements, machinery, and live stock. 8. Fences: Cost of building and repairing. 9. Cost of fertilizers. 10. Labor: Amounts paid for labor, including board; weeks of hired labor, white or black. Products: Estimated value of all farm productions sold, consumed, or on hand for 1889. 12. Forestry: Amount of wood cut, and value of all forest products sold. 13. Grasslands: Acres of each kind of grassland cut for hay or pasture; tons of hay and straw sold; clover and grass seeds produced and sold; silos and their capacity. 14. Sugar: Cane, sorghum, maple, and beet; sugar and molasses; acres, product, and value of each. 15. Castor Beans: Acres. 16. Cereals: Barley, buckwheat, Indian corn, oats, rye, wheat; acres, crop, amount of each sold and consumed, and value. 17. Rice: Acres, crop, and value. 18. Tobacco: Acres, crop, amount sold, and value. 19. Peas and Beans: Bushels, and value of crop sold. 20. Potatoes: Acres, bushels, and value. 21. Hops: Acres, pounds, and value. 22. Fibers: Cotton, flax, and hemp: acres, crop, and value. 23. Broom Corn: Acres, pounds, and value. 24. Live Stock: Horses, mules, and asses; number on hand June 1, 1890; number foaled in 1889; number sold in 1889; number died in 1889. 25. Sheep: number on hand June 1, 1890, of "fine wool," "long wool," and "all other;" number of lambs dropped in 1889; "spring lambs" sold in 1889; slaughtered for use on farm in 1889; killed by dogs in 1889; died from other causes in 1889. 26. Wool: Shorn spring of 1889 and fall of 1889. 27. Goats: Number of Angora and common. 28. Dogs: On from June 1, 1890. 29. Neat Cattle: Working oxen, milch cows, and other cattle on hand June 1, 1890; number of pure bred, grade and common; calves dropped in 1889; cat the sold in 1889, slaughtered for use on the farm, and died in 1889. 30. Dairy: Milk—total gallons produced on farm; sold for use in families; sent to creamery or factory; used on farm, including for butter and cheese; used on farm in raising cream for sale, including for creamery or factory. Butter—pounds made on farm and sold in 1889. Cream—quarts sent to creamery or factory; sold other than to creamery or factory. Cheese—pounds made on farm and sold in 1889. 31. Swine: number on hand June 1, 1890; sold in 1889; consumed on farm and died in 1889. 32. Poultry: Number each of chickens, turkeys, geese, and ducks on hand June 1, 1889; value of all poultry products sold; eggs produced, sold, and value in 1889. 33. Bees: number of stands, pounds of honey and wax produced, and value. 34. Onions: Field crop—number of acres, bushels produced and sold. 35. Potatoes: Sweet and Irish, bushels produced and sold. 36. Market Gardens and Small Fruits: Number of Acres in vegetables, blackberries, cranberries, raspberries, strawberries, and other small fruits, and total value of products in 1889. 37. Vegetables and Fruits for Canning: Number of acres, and products, in bushels, of peas and beans, green corn, tomatoes, other vegetables and fruits. 38. Orchards: Apples, apricots, cherries, peaches, plums, and prunes, and other orchard fruits; in each the number of acres, crop in 1889, number of bearing trees, number of young trees not bearing, and value of all orchard products sold. 39. Vineyards: number of acres in vines bearing and in young vines not bearing; products of grapes and raisins, and value in 1889.

Besides these questions on the regular Agricultural Schedule No. 2, Superintendent ROBERT P. PORTER has ordered several special investigations in the interests of agriculture, among which are Viticulture, Nurseries, Florists, Seed and Truck Farms, Semi-tropical Fruits, Oranges, etc., Live Stock on the great ranges, and in cities and villages; also the names and number of all the various farmers' organizations, such as Agricultural and Horticultural Societies, Poultry, and Bee Associations, Farmers' Clubs, Granges, Alliances, Wheels, Unions, Leagues, etc.

In no part of the census work have the lines been extended more than in the direction of agriculture, and if farmers will now cheerfully co-operate with the enumerators and other officials in promptly furnishing the correct figures more comprehensive returns regarding our greatest industry will be obtained than ever before.

Cancer of the Lip Cured.
I suffered from Cancer on my lip that defied the skill of the best physicians of the State. I had it burned out, but the operation only made it worse, causing it to spread over more surface and eat deeper in. I finally had it burned off again, and used Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) to heal it up and drive the poison out of my blood. The effect of the Specific was magical! It healed up the Cancer entirely without leaving a scar as a reminder. This was over four years ago, and since then there has been no sign of a return of the Cancer. I will cheerfully answer any inquiries regarding my case.

A PROMINENT DRUGGIST CURED.
"Eleven years ago I was suffering from an attack of White Swelling. A great many prominent physicians attended me but failed to effect a cure. I commenced using Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and after using it for a few months I was entirely cured, and since then have had no symptoms of its returning. I feel that the cure is entirely due to the curative properties contained in S. S. S. I can recommend it as a medicine to all suffering humanity." PAUL W. KIRKPATRICK, of Kirkpatrick & Wafford, Druggists, Johnson City, Tenn.
